l'seatment For Infantile Paralysis

St. Paul St., Boston, Mass.

By Dr. Woods Hutchinson, Medical Expect.

In the present epidemic of infantile paralysis Health Commissioner Elmer on of New York has reported that the death rate among these children taken to the hospitut is only one-fourth as great as that of those remaining out side, and the paralysis so far devel oped only about half as frequent or as erious. Carlegaly enough, the distance like most others of the brain and spinal cord, is not a disease of the nerve cells themselves, but of the blood vessels supplying them. So that what really happens is that the center or group of cells in the spinal cord supplying the paralyzed muscle is not so much polsoned as suddenly deprived of its blood supply by the blocking of the tiny ar

If, therefore, the limb or part of a limb Involved can be kept absolutely at rest and the little patient kept as perfectly comfortable and as abundantly nourished as possible so as to throw no strain upon this center in the cord for a few hours or days until it has life and vitality, and you need never time to, so to speak, scurry around and rustle some liquid food from some other arteries or yelus in the neighborhood which have not been blocked, comparatively little wasting and starving to death of the perve cells will result and & the paralysis will be both slight in amount and quickly recovered from.

HURRY TRIPS BY ACTORS.

Mansfield's Record Quick Jump From New Orleans to Chicago.

Envious persons have been known to poolpooh the actor who thinks that his life is not all cultes and ale. Many years ago we thought the limit had been reached when E. L. Davenport acted at a matinee in Philadelphia and duplicated the performance in New York the same night Later came the sensational jump of Lavintee Barrett by special train from New York to San Francisco in less than four days and the Joseph Brook-Janauschek leap from Milwaukee to Philadelphia between Saturday midnight and Monday in time for a regular performance in he latter city.

Once Richard Mansfield's energies compassed a hurry trip between New Orleans and Chicago. On a Saturday evening he presented "Julius Caesar" in the Crescent City and on the next succeeding Monday evening he repeated the experience in Chicago. Meanwhile he had traveled a thousan I mile; and transported all the ponderous impediments of his well remembered production of the Shakespeare classic This is how it was done:

A special train in ten cars was under steam in New Orleans at the close of the engagement. As soon as a scene of the play was worked off it was conveyed on trucks to the waiting speeial. When the curtain fell on the last act the players who appeared in it, without changing their costumes, were driven to the railway station, and the train was out of sight of New Orleans before midnight. Right of way was given for the entire distance, and relays of fresh cugines were provided from division to division. Thus a new record between the gulf and Lake Michigan was made. The running time for the thousand miles was twentythree hours. Kansas City Journal.

Prisoners of Vardun. During the Napoleonic wars of more than a century ago Versian was the principal camp for Britons taken prisoner by the French. The confinement of these prisoners was not strict, and they had much leisure. It is said, for gambling, dueling and even for lovemaking among the damsels of the province. Verdun was even envied for getting the "keep" of these prisoners, and the mayor of Metz petitioned the French government for a share of them, Among these desirable Britons was Lord Yarmouth, said by some to be the original of the Marquis of Steyne in Thackeray's "Vanity Fair"
